

MANUFACTURED CHIMNEY CAP

Abstract of the Disclosure

A manufactured chimney cap is disclosed which provides a weatherproof long lasting enclosure that is designed in such a way so as to divert water away from a centrally integrated chimney flu and off of the chimney cap itself, being encased in a decorative weather-proof material such a aluminum siding, and which is easily installable by one contractor of ordinary skill in a short period of time.